My Interests

I love exploring new places and highly recommend solo travelling; having done it a couple of times myself. That's not to say I don't enjoy exploring and sharing that experience with others too! In life, I strive not to let anybody or anything stop me from being the best I can be or doing what I want. So, if you don't have anyone to travel with, don't let that stop you!

I enjoy trying my hand at creative activities such as painting, pottery, and crocheting. Participating in Coder Academy's boot camp and creating this portfolio are ways for me to enhance my creativity by approaching things in new and different ways (as there are often different approaches to code the same thing!). Turning my ideas into website reality is also a fulfilling aspect.

I'm also a bookworm who usually has a book on hand, or multiple thanks to e-readers. My favourite genre is mystery and thriller fiction, but I enjoy reading across various genres, from fiction to non-fiction. I'm always open to recommendations, so feel free to contact me if you have any!
